Industrial Revolutions Invests in Intelepresence Corporation

Intelepresence is leading manufacturer of wireless products and systems for covert surveillance and counter-terrorism

CAMBRIDGE, VT – Intelepresence Corporation, which designs and manufactures covert surveillance and counter-terrorism systems that operate in open architecture, wireless networks in the most remote and extreme conditions, has announced a significant capital investment by Industrial Revolutions, a private equity investment firm based in Simsbury, CT.

Intelepresence's primary customers include city, county, state and federal law enforcement, airport authorities, marine and border patrols, federal agencies including US Marshals, US Customs, and the National Park Service, private security companies, and law enforcement training academies. Companies involved in oil and gas production, pipeline and utility construction, power generation, construction, mining, forestry, and utility companies and agencies have also harnessed Intelepresence technology. Owners of private yachts, bass fishing boats and hunting enthusiasts are avid users of select Intelepresence systems.

Industrial Revolutions helps small and medium sized companies grow through financial investment and by providing valuable intellectual resources to increase sales and capture market share. Industrial Revolutions will help Intelepresence increase its presence in the growing law enforcement, military, homeland defense, and private security markets. The Industrial Revolutions advisory group is made up of world-class executives representing a full complement of functional and executive skills.

Intelepresence products include the Sentinel, a lightweight, portable, stand-alone video surveillance and intelligence gathering system and the DarkStar, a covert, portable, infrared imaging system operable in zero light conditions. The DarkStar is ideal for vehicle identification up to 1000 feet away, can penetrate tinted windows, and has a wide range of applications in law enforcement, private security, marine and hunting.
